ECCLESIASTES: Meaning(less)

THE SEASONS OF LIFE

(Ecclesiastes 3:1-15)

The full range of our TEMPORARY human experience (vs. 1-8)

Only has meaning when lived by faith in our sovereign, ETERNAL God! (vs. 9-15)

Though we only see a small part of the overall picture, God is sovereign and can be trusted!

Therefore we can rest in Him and bring Him glory by...

...taking pleasure in the highs and lows of each day!

...doing good in the highs and lows of each day!

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS:

- What stood out most to you from the sermon, and why?
- What "season" of life are you in? Is it a high, a low, or somewhere in the middle?
- As you look into the foreseeable future, what unknowns are you most afraid of?
- What truths in this text do you most need to cling to right now?
- How can a confidence in eternity practically shape your joy and your actions today?
- Does the idea of God's sovereign control bring peace to your soul? If not, why not?
